

¶ By the King.

¶ A Proclamation commanding all Mariners and others to His Maiesties Ships, for which they are Prest.

The Kings Maiestie being informed, that divers Mariners being Prest for his service at Sea, haue lately withdrawne themselves from His Maiesties Ships, and are entertained of Merchants and others; Doth hereby, with the advice of his Privie Councell, declare and publish his Royall Pleasure to be, And doth also straightly charge and command, That all Mariners and others that are or shall be imprest for his Maiesties service at Sea, doe immediatly repaire to His Maiesties Ships for which they are or shall be entertained, and there abide for his Maiesties service, And that they nor any of them presume to faile herein, Upon paine of his Maiesties high displeasure, and of the vetermost penaltie and seuerity which by the Lawes or Statutes of this Realme they may incurre for deserting his Maiesties service, and for their contempt or neglect of his Maiesties Royall commands herein. And his Maiestie doth hereby also inhibite and forbid all Merchants, Owners, and Masters of Ships whosoever, to receive or continue any such Mariners and others in their service, as are or shall be Prest for his Maiesties Ships, upon like paine of his heavy indignation, and the strictest punishment that by the Lawes and Justice of this Kingdome may in such case be inflicted.

Giuen at Our Palace of VWestminster the fifth day of April, in the twelfth yeere of Our Reigne.

¶ God saueth the King.
